

Acknowledgment of Personal Responsibility

By scheduling a session with Jordana Van, you are indicating that you have read, understood and agree to ALL of the following. Please print a copy for your records.

I understand that Jordana Van, Holistic Energy Healer and Intuitive Counselor, is not a licensed physician or otherwise certified medical practitioner. While Ms. Van may suggest that a client's particular patterns may be associated with a specific medical condition, she does not diagnose illness. If I suspect that I am ill, I will see my doctor. Further, Ms. Van's purpose is neither to dispense medical advice nor provide a cure for any disorder or illness. I will see my doctor before making any changes to prescribed illness-management strategies, especially those concerning my prescription medications.

I further understand that I—and I alone—am entirely responsible for any changes made to my lifestyle following a consultation and/or treatment provided by Ms. Van, including (but not limited to) changes I make to my diet, exercise routines and personal circumstances such as employment, place of residence and relationship-status. I agree to hold Ms. Van completely harmless for any and all changes to my present situation—and the consequences thereof—that may arise post-consultation and/or treatment.
